The attendance by grounds was: West Thames street, 2,126; Falls, 2,914; Thames street, 2,126; Falls, 2,914; Greeneville, 4,702; Pearl street, 5,547; Lake street, 10,562, Miss McKay spoke of the equipments on the grounds and told of the various games provided for the amusement of the children. In concluding her report Miss McKay made the following suggestions,
It will be necessary to build a store house on Lake street ground. were obliged at the close of each day to chain up the apparatus to keep it from destruction during the night and this proved a very unsatisfactory method. At the end of the season the apparatus from the other grounds could be stored in this storehouse. It might be a good plan to have Lake street playground open under super evening for the benefit of the boys and girls who are employed during the and who would greatly enjoy the ad-vantages of this ground.

Most of the apparatus has been in use for three seasons and although re-paired, it is nearly all worn out and will need to be replaced next season Additional equipment would be great ly appreciated by the children. If impossible to secure such a place t would seem a good idea to establish a playground on High street for the small children who are not able to attend Thamesville or Pearl street and who play in the street. If it were possible to pay more money for supervision we would not need to make so many changes in in-structors. The success of each play-ground depends in a large measure on the instructor and if we could hold those who have the greatest interest in the work much more could be ac-

The Boy Scouts of the city enjoyed the hospitalities of the Y. M. C. A. on Tuesday evening and all were very much enthused over the special programme arranged for them by General Secretary Edwin Hill. Headed by Tubbs' Military band, some 150 Scouts with their scoutmasters formed in line in front of the association culiding at 7.45 o'clock, and after parading the principal streets of the city marched to the home of Wa terman R. Burnham on Main street and greeted this former president of the Y. M. C. A. with the following yell: Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah! Boy Scouts! Boy Scouts! Boy Scouts Y. M. C. A. Burnham! Burnham

Burnham! Mr. and Mrs. Burnham responded by appearing on the veranda of their home and thanked the boys for the honor conferred upon them. After giving three hearty cheers for Tubbs' band, the scouts then countermarched to the association building and gathered in the hall, where there was an excellent programme of movies and

General Secretary Hill welcomed the outs and their friends and Scoutmas-r Benjamin Bruce responded. Following two Charlie Chaplin reels scouts of the various troops in the city and Norwich Town gave exhibitions of tilting, and then a Hearst-Selig news film was shown. Prof. J. A. George gave a number of bugle calls on the old army bugle which he used while fighting in the union army dur-ing the Civil war. Professor George explained the significance of the variwere also the scout exhibition and the bugle calls given by Professor George. Refreshments were then served in

BANKS AND THRIFT. New York Magazine Editor Gave In structive Address. Under the auspices of the Norwick

Chamber of Commerce William H Kniffen, Jr., law editor of the Bank-ers' Magazine of New York, lectured Tuesday evening in the Town hall up-on the subject of Banks and Thrift. He was introduced by President William H. Cruickshank of the Chamber of Commerce, and gave a talk that was particularly interesting to the 35 men present.

He spoke of the three kinds of banking institutions, the bank of dis count, savings bank and trust com-pany, and gave a very illuminating description of the operations of the bank of discount and the savings The savings bank he described as thrift institution which stands as one of the great factors in making better Thrift, he said, embodies all the virtues of earning, planning, managing and saving, and Lord Rosebery has called it the strongest foundation of an empire. and ings bank is the greatest teacher of thrift that the world knows.

Our national curse is waste and what we need to do is to learn to cut out the waste. This is an era of municipal ex-travagance when cities are vying with each other to build the most expen sive school houses, bridges, municipal buildings, etc. The generation to come will have to pay the bills we are contracting. Extravagance is found not only in the corporations but in the individua and the extravagance is frightful. His definition of thrift he said "F porterhouse steak treated First buy a porterhouse and get a good meal. Then one ought to be able to get a good coup out of it and then a good hash. A thrifty housewife can do that. Thrift is a habit and also matter of incentive.

At the close of his address of over an hour he was given a rising vote of thanks Several questions from his audience were satisfactorily answered by Mr
